TO STIMULATE THE CULTIVATION OF GARDENS

Citizens Interested in Pushing the Work to Hold Meeting in Rooms of the Chamber of Commerce Tomorrow Evening—An Invitation is Extended to All Citizens.

A portion of the citizens of Alexandria are beginning to realize the serious situation which confronts the country in regard to the food question. This is well, for when people see the necessity of doing something, instead of merely talking about it, results are bound to follow.

In order to help others to wake up to the threatening conditions which they may be brought face to face with a little later, a meeting has been called for tomorrow evening at eight o'clock, in the rooms of the Chamber of Commerce, to take such steps as may be necessary.

Miss Helen N. Cummings, who has recently returned from a trip through various sections of the country, during which she has been afforded an opportunity to learn much about the work being done along this line elsewhere, will be present and give our people the benefit of her knowledge of the work of increasing the food supply through garden cultivation. She will represent the Cameron Club at the meeting, with Mrs. M. W. O'Brien, Mrs. G. M. Johnson and Mrs. J. B. Hubbard.

It is expected that the Civic Improvement League will be represented by Messrs. E. H. Kemper, John W. Herndon and E. S. Leadbeater; the Chamber of Commerce by D. J. Grilbortzer, Louis Loose, Wm. H. Thomas, Harmon Roberts, and J. T. Preston; the Retail Merchants' Association by J. W. Schwarzmann, R. E. Knight and John B. Matter; the Alexandria Automobile Club by G. Washington Lewis and C. C. Lamond; the Travelers Protective Association by J. Y. Williams, A. D. Brockett and Leopold Ruben; the Parent-Teachers' Association by Mrs. T. C. Howard and S. G. Blanton.

All other residents of the city are invited and it is earnestly hoped that everyone will take an interest in this work, which is likely to be so much needed right here in Alexandria.

Go, and invite your neighbor to go with you.

GYPSIES KEPT MOVING

Band of Normads Attract General Attention at the Head of King Street Yesterday Afternoon.

King street extended has for several years been the favorite walk for many Alexandrians on Sunday. Yesterday afternoon a number of itinerants, men and women, generally called Gypsies, took up their abode in the vicinity of Spring Park, where they made themselves conspicuous by drinking from bottles and by other pranks.

Their conduct was obnoxious to many passersby, and the presence of the strangers was reported to the police. Sergeant Scott with a squad of police subsequently appeared on the scene and commanded the undesirables to move on beyond the city jurisdiction. The wanderers soon collected their trappings and left the scene.

The vicinity of Spring Park has long been a favorite camping ground for so-called Gypsies. They generally take up their abode in the triangular lots of ground at that place in order to be seen by people going to Rosemont, George Washington Park or West End. They are supposed to eke out an existence by imparting future events to those who have faith in their forecasts.

Several years ago a number of this genus, men and women, took up their position at the intersection of Shooter's Hill and Russell Roads, entrance to Rosemont. Complaint having been made, the police pounced upon them. Upon some of the men large bunches of keys of all shapes were found. It was supposed by some that the strangers were making plans to rob houses in Rosemont that night. The police forced them to leave the neighborhood immediately.

WANTS PEACE

German Reichstag Summoned for April 24—Vienna Opening Bids for Truce.

Amsterdam, April 16. — Advices from Berlin today declared the Reichstag had been summoned to meet April 24, and that Imperial Chancellor von Bethmann-Hollweg was expected to make an early statement on Russia.

Austro-Hungary regards a "basis of understanding" easily capable of being reached with Russia, in view of the identical belief in the Russian provisional government's recent statement and those stated by Foreign Minister Czernin.

A semi-official statement, giving his interpretation, was issued in Vienna today—the first open, formal bid for peace with Russia.

Gen. Michael V. Alexieff has been definitely appointed commander-in-chief of the Russian armies. He was appointed acting commander-in-chief a few weeks ago.

NO RECRUITS RECEIVED

Not a Man Has Come Forward at the Recruiting Station Since Last Week —Officers Getting Discouraged.

It has been said that it would not be necessary to resort to compulsory measures in order to secure the number of recruits wanted in either the army or navy, but unless they are enlisting faster in other parts of the country than they are in Alexandria, drafting will become absolutely necesary.

Notwithstanding the fact that a patriotic rally was held in the Opera House in this city on Saturday evening, for the express purpose of securing more recruits so that the Alexandria Light Infantry might be brought up to the full war strength, not a man has responded to the call since last Friday. His name appears at the head of the list below, which contains the names of all who have enlisted here thus far.

That Captain Johnson and the other officers of the company are becoming somewhat discouraged is therefore not surprising. Unless our young men wake up the Light Infantry will certainly not be able to get its full quota before it is called away.

Much interest is being shown in the result of the election of a first lieutenant for the company, which will take place at the armory at 8 o'clock tonight. Six names have been mentioned for the place, and it is expected that at least four persons will be placed in nomination, among whom are several formerly identified with the company. The vacancy was caused by the resignation of Lieut. J. Douglas McLean.

Roll of Honor.

The names of those who have enlisted:

In Memoriam.

In loving memory of our dear little girl, Audrey L. Roberts, who left us three years ago today April 16th, 1914
Oh, happy pilgrim e'er your childish feet,
Were stoned or bruised by a too troubled way,
God opened wide his arms and you
Went home to stay
Our empty arms when loved ones part
From being idle ache—
We never know we've got a heart
Till it begins to break.

Mother,

In Memoriam.

Sacred to the memory of my niece, Audrey L. Roberts who left us 3 years ago today, April 16, 1914.
Oh, dear Audrey, how I miss you,
Every moment in the day;
My heart is sad and lonely,
Ever since you passed away.
The month of April once more is here,
To me the saddest of the year,
Because it took from me away,
My darling Audrey, three years ago today.

PATRIOTIC MEETINGS

Stars and Stripes Unfurled over Westminster Building Saturday —Stirring Addresses in Evening.

Patriotism was given full sway in Alexandria on Saturday, flag raising exercises being held in the afternoon and a patriotic rally in the evening. A handsome United States flag was swung to the breeze over the Westminster building at four o'clock in the afternoon. The Rev. Dr. John Lee Allison, pastor of the Second Presbyterian church, opened the exercises with a short address after which Master C. Lester Scott, attired in the white uniform of a sailor, pulled the flag to the top of the staff, a bugler from Fort Hunt sounded the call to the colors, and Padgett's orchestra rendered the "Star Spangled Banner."

Representative Harrison of Mississippi followed with a stirring address in which he said that for three years this country had patiently endured the insults of Germany until our forbearance had been marveled at by the other nations of the world. His remarks were listened to with the utmost attention by the thousand or more people in attendance.

Rally in the Evening.

Previous to the meeting in the evening the Alexandria Light Infantry, led by the Indian Guard Band, paraded through King street, the squad of recruits enlisted during the past week, having the right of line. The exercises at the Opera House were opened upon their arrival there, the house being packed to the doors with the crowd in attendance. President F. F. Marbury, of the Board of Aldermen, presided.

The Rev. E. V. Regester, pastor of the Methodist Church South, was the first speaker. He said that when Lincoln called for volunteers in 1861 the response came back "We are coming, Father Abraham, five hundred thousand strong," and that the answer to President Wilson's call from the Southland will be, "We are coming, Father Woodrow, one million strong."

Mrs. Kate Waller Barrett, the next speaker, declared that ignoble peace would be worse than war, and that, under circumstances as they now enlist, she would be ashamed to go to Europe as a representative of this nation should it remain neutral. Referring to "slackers" she also said that she hoped to see a law put in force that would compel them to go to war along with the volunteers, and was in favor of universal military training.

Mr. Robinson Moncure followed in an earnest speech on preparedness, opening his remarks with a short prayer. He was listened to very attentively, his arguments being logical and convincing. Captain Conrad Johnson gave an earnest plea to the young men to enlist in Company G, and invited them to go to the armory and join at the earliest opportunity.

BRYAN SEES PRESIDENT

Nebraskan Willing to Push War and He Wants Prohibition.

It is stated that William Jennings Bryan today personally told President Wilson he is for anything the Government wants in pushing the war to a quick and successful end.

In a conference with the President at the white House lasting over a half hour, Bryan said he was willing to serve anywhere the President wants him to serve.

He had but one specific thing to urge—wartime prohibition.

As to universal military service, Bryan doesn't care a hang. Bryan will get right behind whatever plan the Government suggests.

SEED FOR BACK-YARDS

Would Stimulate Movement for Gardening in Old Dominion—Commission Offer $100 worth

Most important of the single contributions yet received by the forces promoting the growing of gardens in the back-yards and vacant lots of Richmond this spring is the gift of $100 worth of seed offered by the National Emergency Food Garden Commission, of Washington, D. C., and accepted on behalf of the Richmond city Schools.

More than 2,500 white pupils and 1,100 colored have signed pledges declaring their intention to plant gardens this spring, according to figures compiled by J. H. Binford, the assistant superintendent, who has charge of the garden movement in the schools. More than 100 of the pledges were signed by pupils in John Marshall High School, more than 200 by pupils of Binford Junior High School, and more than 600 by pupils of the two large colored schools, Baker and Moore.

In addition to the children who have agreed to plant gardens and submit vegetables in the competitions 400 white and colored parents have applied for ground to be planted on a somewhat larger scale than the school plots. It is expected that many owners of vacant lots, especially lots in the suburbs, will place them at the disposal of the school authorities for use this summer.

New features are at times introduced in the Alexandria public schools. What is about to be accomplished in Richmond might prove a hint to pupils in this city.

PRESIDENT'S PROCLAMATION

Entire Nation Called Upon for War Service.

The whole nation was called upon for war service in a formal proclamation issued last night by President Wilson.

Declaring that "mere fighting will be fruitless," the Preisdent demanded the active support and co-operation of men and women in every walk of life—"a great international service army."

From the farmer to the housewife, each individual was called upon to do his or her share in conserving and making available for war use the vast resources of the nation.

"The supreme test of the nation has come," said the proclamation. "We must all speak, act and serve together."

The President declared that while the navy is rapidly being placed on an effective war footing, and a great army is about to be created and equipped, "these are the simplest parts of the great task to which we have addressed ourselves." He declared that the first great thing to be done was to supply abundant food, not only for the United States and its fighting forces, but for a large part of "the nations with whom we have now made common cause."

Among other things the President says:

"To do this great thing worthily and successfuly we must devote ourselves to the service without regard to profit or material advantage

"We must supply aboundant food for ourselves and for a large part of the nations with whom we have now made common cause.

"We must supply ships by the hundreds to carry to the other side of the sea, submarines or no submarines, that which will every day be needed there.

"Our industries on the farms, in the shipyards, in the mines, in the factories must be made more prolific and more efficient than ever.

"Upon the farmers of this country in large measures rests the fate of the war and the fate of the nations.

"There shall be no unwarranted manipulation of the nation's food supply by those who handle it on its way to the consumer.

"Everyone who creates or cultivates a garden helps.

"Every housewife who practices strict economy puts herself in the ranks of those who serve the nation.

"The supreme test of the nation has come. We must all speak, act and serve together."

THE DISPLAY OF FLAGS.

If the lavish display of American flags is an index of patriotism, the people of America might rest assured of the martial spirit of the nation.

The Star Spangled Banner is now flying in front of most houses of the city. It is used in decorating automobiles, as well as most other vehicles, while flags are placed in the plumes of the horses.

This is all very well, but the display of flags upon the lappels of our coats and other places will accomplish but little in war. The Chinese many years ago imagined pictures of their dragon, firecrackers and tinpots were the most mightly weapons in war. They have long since revised their opinions.

Movements are being made in every section of the country to stimulate enlistments. Satisfactory responses have been made in some sections, but a decided lethargy is manifest elsewhere.

A mass meeting was held in the Opera House in this city last Saturday night, at which patriotic speeches were made by well known Alexandrians.

It is said that the southern section of the country is not as active as it has been on other occasions. Many years ago what was known as the Mafia, an Italian organization, gave trouble in New Orleans. Some of the members were summarily dealt with, by mobs. It was supposed that this overt act might cause war between the United States and Italy, but the matter was settled by diplomacy. At that time many telegrams were sent from southern states to the President in which thousands of men offered their services to the government in case war should follow.

The sinking of the battleship Maine in Havana harbor caused the greatest indignation in the southern country, and many from that section were soon in the ranks of the United States army.

Our country has suffered long from Germany. While the sinking of one American ship brought on the war between the United States and Spain, a number of our peaceable merchantmen have been destroyed by Teuton submarines during the past few months. Germany has been far more aggressive towards the United States than Spain.

SACRIFICES TO MARS.

"According to conservative estimates, over 4,000,000 soldiers have been killed since the present war began," says the Vorwaerts. "How many people are able to form a clear idea what these terrible sacrifices mean? "If the 4,000,000 victims were marching in close formation, without cavalry and wagon trains, it would take them 200 hours, or eight and a half days, to pass a given point, provided they marched day and night without a moment's rest. The endless line of men in the bloom of youth and the prime of manhood would be over 650 miles long and reach from Basle to the mouth of the Rhine. And all of them are now dead!"

Moses Schwartzmann, a Jewish butcher of Laupheim, Germany, recently was notified by the army administration that his sixth and last son had been killed in battle. Three of the young men died on the battle fields in France and Belgium, two fell on the Russian front; the last one found his death in Roumania. Four had won the Iron Cross and one was about to be promoted to the rank of an officer when a Russian shell tore him to pieces.

It is said that the Kaiser suffers poignantly when the thought comes over him of the awful death roll he has caused in Germany. He has put crapeupon nearly every door in the Fatherland in less than three years. He is still engaged in the terrible work.

After the death of Napoleon Bonaparte an English paper printed a cartoon representing the Corsican in Tartarus, where thousands of shades were following him from place to place pointing fingers of contempt at him. The Kaiser and his junta will have many more to taunt them when they shall have passed into the spirit world.

USE JAIL BIRDS.

That jail birds now idling at the expense of the public be at once put to work in the cultivation of vacant spaces about the city, raising potatoes and other food crops, is suggested by Oliver J. Sands, president of the American National Bank and chairman of the agricultural committee of the Chamber of Commerce of Richmond.

"We are facing two serious problems," says Mr. Sands, "a food shortage and a labor shortage. Meanwhile there is an enormous amount of vacant land in and about the city and there are hundreds of trifling, idle people in the City Jail, going to seed, lying idle, doing nothing.

The above suggestion applies equally to Alexandria. We have a corporation farm, and there is no reason why the many who fill the jail should not be forced to aid in cultivating the land at the alms house. Every foot of that tract should be made to bring forth.

WHAT WAR MEANS TO AMERICA

John Barrett Makes Practical Observations Concerning Great Responsibility on All.

Washington, April 16.—In response to requests of many interested persons who assembled in the Hall of the Americas of the Pan American Building last night, John Barrett, director of the Pan-American Union, discussed unofficially before them the urgent practical lessons in war making to be now learned and taken advantage of by the United States from the experience of England and France. His conclusions were based upon his two month's visit to those countries when he was afforded every facility by the governments and officials, not only to see the battle front, but to observe methods and conditions of organization and administration for the conduct of the war. Mr. Barrett said in part:

"Certain great and urgent facts stand out from the war experience of England and France. The government and people of the United States must realize and profit by them. Otherwise there will be colossal mistakes followed by colossal trouble. The frank admission about England's blunders' made by Lloyd George in his last speech confirms this statement. Everybody has confidence in the good intentions and ability of the civil and military leaders of the United States, but the rank and file of the people must understand the problems confronting the nation and co-operate to the fullest extent possible.

"The first great impresion one now gains in England and France is that of the co-operation or 'team play' everywhere evident from the relations between the governments themselves down to those between the humblest laborer and the captain of industry.

"The second condition that stands out and which is corollary to the first is that of the extraordinary organization and system which characterized everything that is being done. Nothing now seems to be worked out by haphazard individual or selfish act. Everybody is working under a major plan and superior authority. A mighty chart could almost trace out what each person is doing for national service. There was a long period of confusion before this condition was realized. The United States must avoid that experience.

"The third influence making for the success of those nations is their splendid efficiency now inspiring all classes of effort--the industrial worker in the factory as well as the soldier on the firing line; the shop girl at the counter as well as the society girl in the hospital; the messenger boy and the business manager; the 'Tommie' or 'Poilu' and the general. It was only, however, after these countries experienced the perils and dangers of inefficiency that they accomplished this remarkable new condition. Let the United States from top to bottom become corresponding efficient and nothing can stand in the way of its leadership."

The Germans, with very large forces, on Sunday attacked the British along the Bapaume-Cambrai road over a front of 6 miles, and, fighting desperately, succeeded in gaining a foothold in the village of Lagnicourt, which lies southwest of Queant, a position of great strategic importance in the German line. Everywhere else along the British front the Germans were repulsed, according to the official report from Field Marshal Sir Douglas Haig, and their success at Lagnicourt was not for long, as a powerful British counter attack drove them out. Three hundred Germans were made prisoners and 1,500 German dead were counted in front of the British positions.

UNCLE SAM, PAYMASTER

Task of Getting Money to Two Million Men Not an Easy One—What Soldiers Will Receive.

For the first time in nineteen years Uncle Sam is getting ready to pay a big field army. The army on the border was designated as a departmental force, With 2,000,000 men scheduled to serve with the colors just as soon as they can be obtained, a big job faces the quartermasters at each of the six department headquarters and the finance division of the depot here.

The finance division of the depot in Washington is under the direction of Maj. George C. Barnhardt, It pays off all retired officers and soldiers under the war depot in the city, some in the Philippines and some in Texas, Already it has a big task, and with the increase of the army it will be loaded down with work.

Face an Arduous Task

Paying 2,000,000 officers and men is no mean task. As the army is mobilized at points near the department headquarters in San Antonio, San Francisco, Charleston, Chicago, New York, and Boston, each department quartermaster will have the arduous task of paying all officers and men in his jurisdiction and his forces will be augmented from the quartermaster's reserve corps or other agencies.

The Washington depot has an allotment branch to which it pays members of the soldiers' and officers' family when he so requests, and any other allottee he may designate. It also pays the regular army reserve, but that has not amounted to much yet. The depot also pays all telegraph accounts and these have become formidable since the declaration of a state of war with Germany, as have railway transportation accounts.

Pay to Guardsmen's Families.

There is also a dependent relative branch at the Washington depot. When the troops were called to the border Congress appropriated money for dependent relatives of the men called into the service. This is now being paid only to the men who were not mustered out of service.

The families of the men in the national guard who have been called back to the colors will not get this money, unless Congress again passes a bill similar to that which was drawn especially for the families of men who went to the border.

Several such bills have been introduced into the present session of Congress and a bill doubtless will be passed. This will increase the work of the paying forces, for any dependent relief measures makes many close distinctions on benefits. For the army that went to the border the maximum benefit for the dependent relatives of any man was $50 a month

Pay of Officers in the Field.

The highest pay of any officer in the field is that of lieutenant general, which is $11,000 a year. There is no active lieutenant general now, however, Gens. Bates, Young and Myers, who reached that rank, are all retired.

The pay of a major general is $8,000 a year, at the time of his appointment, and he gets a 10 per cent increase each five years. This 10 per cent increase each five years also applies to brigadier generals, colonels, lieutenant colonels, majors, captains, first lieutenants and second lieutenants.

The pay of a brigadier general is $6,000 a year; a colonel, $4,000, and lieutenant colonel, $3,500. Other salaries for line office are major $3,000 a year; captain, $2,400; first lieutenant, $2,000; second lieutenant, $1,700.

Lieutenants in Demand.

First and second lieutenants are very much in demand. Examinations are being held in many parts of the country to fill up the ranks of lieutenants in order that the big army of recruits may be drilled.

Lieutenants of the medical corps are entitled to the pay of captain after three years' service. An acting judge advocate detailed by the Secretary of War is entitled to the pay of a captain.

In the event an army goes to Europe, all officers from major general to second lieutenant will receive 10 per cent increase in pay while on such service.

Increases to Army Fliers.

The aviation corps, which offers a wide field and which is to receive much attention, in addition to opportunities for service, is attractive from the standpoint of play.

While on duty that requires him to participate regularly and frequently in aerial flights, each duly qualified military aviator receives an increase of 75 per cent over the salary which the pay of his grade entitles him.

Chaplains appointed to the army will receive $2,000 a year, the pay of a first lieutenant.

Privates receive $15 a month. In case they are sent to Europe they will get an increase of 20 per cent, or $18 per month. A certificate of merit entitles a soldier to $2 a month more, and there is yet an additional sum for expert riflemen, sharpshooters and marksmen. Cooks receive $30 a month.

"Noncoms" Also Paid Well.

A master signal electrician receives $75 a month. An engineer, in the coast artillery gets $65. A regimental sergeant major, quartermaster sergeant or commissary sergeant in the field artillery, cavalry or infantry gets $45. Senior sergeant majors in the coast artillery also get $45.

Battalion sergeant majors in the field artillery and infantry, squadron sergeant major of cavalry, battalion quartermaster sergeant of field artillery, junior sergeant major of coast artillery and master gunner of coast artillery receive $40.

Second-class electrical sergeant of the coast artillery and color sergeant in the field artillery, cavalry and infantry gets $36 and fireman in the coast artillery $30.

In batteries, troops and companies and in the signal and quartermaster corps, sergeants, and in the artillery, cavalry, infantry, and engineers, first sergeants gets $36. Sergeants in the artillery, cavalry and infantry, stable sergeants and horseshoers get $30 a month.

High Rate for Musicians.

A mechanic in the coast artillery and a chief mechanic in the field artillery receives $24. A corporal in the artillery, cavalry and infantry, an artificer in infantry and a farrier, saddler and wagoner in the cavalry receive $21. In bands, the chief musician gets $75 a month, chief trumpeter in artillery and cavalry and principal musician, $40; drum major, $36; corporal, $30, and private musician, $24.

In the hospital corps a first class sergeant gets $50, a sergeant $30, corporal $24, first class private $18 and private $16.

For second enlistments there is an increase in pay amounting to from $3 to $4 a month.

AN ERA OF BETTER COOKING

Thousands of women are cooking by electricity because it means FOOD BETTER COOKED!

This is particularly true of roasted and braised meats, or any baked food. Electric cooking, on the NEUCO, retains all the nutriment and also holds the flavor.

By preventing the loss of meat essences it furthermore effects a big saving in butchers' bills.

Clean and sanitary, AND—by making cooking easy—a big boon to the housewife.

Come in and let us demonstrate why food cooked on the NEUCO is food "better cooked."

BALFOUR TO ARRIVE.

To Land in New York Tonight and Come to Washington Tomorrow.

Arthur J. Balfour, the British foreign secretary, and other members of the British commission appointed to attend the international war conference at Washington, beginning this week will reach New York at 5:30 this afternoon, and come to Washington either today or tomorrow.

Official announcement to this effect was made shortly after noon today. It was further announced that a formal reception to both the British and French commisions will be given by President Wilson at the White House Wednesday, indicating that former Premier Rene Viviani and other members of the French commission will reach Washington some time tomorrow.

Just when the regular sessions of the confrence will begin is not known, but it is believed that before the end of the week they will be well under way. It is generally understood that, in addition to discussing plans for financial, economic, military and naval co-operation between the United States and the allies, the war council will discuss peace terms and draw up a fresh agreement binding each of the nations fighting Germany not to consider a separate peace.

There are many indications that before the council adjourns the enemies of Germany will pledge themselves not to cease their fight until the autocracy of the Hohenzollerns is crushed.

FIELD TO BE A PRIVATE.

Heir to $200,000,000 Will Enlist in Illinois Cavalry Regiment.

Chicago, April 16.—Marshall Field, grandson of the founder of Marshall Field and Company, one of the richest young men in America, has declared his intention of "doing his bit." He will enlist as a private in the First Illinois Cavalry this week, coming from New York, where he is at present, to join the Chicago organization.

Young Mr. Field and his brother Henry Field, inherited practically the entire estate of their grandfather. This estate is now held in trust for them. It is estimated at $400,000,000.

Marshall Field was educated in England, at Eton and afterward at Oxford. He was married in February 1915, to Miss Evelyn Marshall, daughter of the late Charles H. Marshall, of New York. They have one son, Marshall Field, Jr., who is about a year old.

I'VE TRIED THEM ALL, BUT DRECO DID THE WORK

Penna. R. R. Baggageman for Twenty Years is Glad to Give Credit to Dreco for its Splendid Results.

Mrs. John Rouston, of 623 Fifth street N. E., recently volunteered the following statement:

"My husband has been for 20 years a baggageman on the Pennsylvania Railroad, running between Washington and New York. His work and the hours of his run makes it impossible for him to get his meals regularly, and the results were about as bad a case of pains in the stomach, gas, sourness, and sluggish liver as I ever heard of, in addition to constipation, which nothing seemed able to correct.

"He tried many doctors, and took all sorts of medicines, till the medicene cabinet would not hold the botdidn't seem to get a bit of relief from any of them.

"I heard about Dreco, through a Washington lady I know, and thought I'd just try a bottle anyway for my husband. He took it, but I must admit didn't have much faith in anything to relieve him. The second day after he started to take Dreco he ate his meals and was entirely comfortable afterward—no pain whatever, and no gas on the stomach. His liver is active and normal again, and the constipation condition seems to be almost entirely corrected.

"After the way I've seen him suffer, and the months that I've heard him complaining, I'm only too glad to say everything I can for Dreco, for it surely has made a well man out of a mighty sick one, and I'd like everybody to know just what it has really done."

Three thousand aircraft and 2,400 aviators for the first year of the war are the plan of the national advisory aeronautic committee, now awaiting the passage of the army bill.

A statement by the committee today said that this constitutes "one of the most effective ways of assisting the allies," especially since aircraft constitute the "eyes" of both the army and navy.

No Gehenna nor Hades, He Tells Mighty Throng, Awaits Evildoers.

New York, April 16.—Thousands of persons swarmed about the big tabernacle last night, but failed to hear Billy Sunday fire a broadside on "The Sins of Society." Those who failed to get in to hear the evangelist fought like madmen to enter the building, and only the intervention of the police and firemen preserved order.

Sunday last night began his onslaught on drinking, gambling, gluttony and all the other sybaritic excesses to which he alleged society is prone.

In his sermon, Sunday forced himself to a pitch of fervor that again and again carried him off his chosen topic.

"By the eternal God," he screamed, half-hysterical, "I'm a dogmatic. That is a chair, that is the pulpit. God is God, the Bible the Bible—from cover to cover, the word of God. I believe in hell—not Gehenna nor Hades; but hell. H-e-l-l--hell—yea, hell, fire and brimstone. Hell! hell! hell!"

Thus did Sunday emphasize on his hearers his belief in hell, and when the throngs left the tabernacle at the close of the sermon each one had a very good idea of what Sunday preached would be the fate of the evildoers.

EXCITEMENT IN ARGENTINA

Anti-Teuton Mobs Bring Country Nearer War.

Buenos Ayres, April 16. — The president and the cabinet were in session all afternoon yesterday and discussed the sinking by a German submarine of the Argentine steamship Monte Protegido.

The government last night issued a statement denouncing last night's anti-German demonstrations and announcing that stringent measures would be taken in case of recurrence.

Mobs, demanding war with Germany, last night attacked the police guarding the German Legation. The demonstrators were dispersed only when mounted police summoned to the scene charged into the crowd with drawn sabers.

London, April 16.— Violence and bloodshed reigned in the Argentine capital Saturday night and yesterday when furious mobs, demanding war with Germany, tried to storm the German Legation and consulate and attacked a German-owned newspaper. Shots were fired, windows smashed, and hand-to-hand fighting ensued between the assailants and protectors of the German property, until the outbreaks were put down by the police. News of these disorders were received here in a dispatch from the Buenos Ayres correspondent of the Exchange Telegraph Company.

HOW SUBMARINE NET WORKS.

Catches Undersea Raiders Something Like Fish.

A submarine net is made of wire rope, about as thick as a lead pencil, and the meshes are of great size—about 10 or 15 feet square. The net has floats on top that keep bobbing up and down like the float on a fish line and on the bottom are weights that keep the whole thing in a perpendicular position.

The submarine cannot submerge to very great depths on account of the pressure—200 feet being about the limiting depth. It sails innocently along, therefore, until it pushes its nose into these meshes. The net now trails along on both sides of the submarine—its progress revealing the fact that something below is supplying the motive power. Perhaps the net suddenly stops; that means that the hidden submarine has stopped; its navigators having made the horrible discovery that they are trapped—or perhaps the net has become twisted in the propeller.

Under these conditions the wise marine rises to the surface. It surrenders, becomes the porperty of the enemy, and its crew are made prisoners. If it does not take such action one or two things will happen. The enemy will wait upon the surface until the submarine comes up or, if it starts moving the enemy will follow until the inevitable uprising.

But perhaps the surface commander gets impatient; in such a case he can let a bombdown into the water, which will explode when it touches the roof of the submarine. Of course, the submerged Germans know that this bomb is likely to drop at any minute; the "psychology" of such a situation tends to persuade the imprisoned crew to surrender.

TWO IN FAMILY SLAIN

Shooting and Stabbing Affray in Philadelphia May Wipe Out Entire Household.

Philadelphia, April 16.—Two members of one family are dead and two others are dying from fatal wounds as the result of a wholesale shooting and cutting affray last night in front of a house at No. 1006 South Leithgow street. More than a score of shots were fired during the melee, and when a detail of bluecoats arrived a woman and three men were prostrate on the sidewalk. They were sent to Mt. Sinai Hospital.

The dead were:

Mrs. Mary Cacoma, 40 years old; shot through the head.

Salvatore Cacoma, 65 years old, her father-in-law; shot in the abdomen.

The two men who, the physicians say cannot recover, are:

Tony Cacoma, 21 years old, brother-in-law, of the dead woman; shot twice in the abdomen.

Carmelia Cacoma, 39 years old, husband of the slain woman; shot through the eye.

ROYAL ARCANUM RECEIVER.

Thomas J. Boynton, Former Attorney General of Massachusetts, Appointed by Federal Judge.

Boston, April 16.—Thomas J. Boynton, formerly Attorney-General of Massachusetts, was appointed receiver of the Supreme Council of the Royal Arcanum by Federal Judge Aldrich Saturday. The appointment was made on petition of Arthur L. Hobart, of Braintree, a member of the order, who holds a death benefit certificate calling for $500. Hobart alleged that the reserve fund of the organization, amounting to $3,800,000, had been illegally administered, and that it would be entirely depleted within two years unless the court interfered. He asked that the receiver wind up the affairs of the council.

The petition stated that in 1915 the sum of $1,500,000 was illegally used in the payment of preferential death benefit claims.

BANDITS RAID PLAYERS

Five Line Up Habitues Under 10 Guns and Take Valuables, Besides $5000 in Cash.

Erie, Pa., April 16.— A score of Erie citizens, including business and professional men, were without their diamonds and watches last night as a result of Jake Strahl's place having been held up by five masked bandits about daylight yesterday morning. In addition to the diamonds and watches valued at nearly $5000, the bandits got away with about $5000 in money, taken from 20 or more players in the place and from the owners.

BANK REPORTED $20,000 SHORT.

Moultrie, Ga., April 14.— Officers of the First National Bank here yesterday announced that examination of the books showed a supposed shortage of slightly more than $20,000.

An assistant cashier is missng.

Mayor James M. Curley, of Boston, declares that Charles M. Schwab told him recently that an emissary of the German government had offered him $100,000,000 on condition that he induce the Bethlehem Steel Corporation to abandon the manufacture of munitions for the allies. Mr. Schwab told of the offer two days before this country declared a state of war with Germany.

VIRGINIA NEWS.

Insane from brooding over ill health, George Styron, aged 50 years of Norfolk, yesterday attacked his wife as she lay sleeping with a hammer, and a little later blew out his own brains in a nearby shipyard with a revolver, Mrs. Styron is in a critical condition, with a fractured skull Styron's body was not found until several hours after the assault on his wife.

A posse of residents of the south side of Albemarle county, augmented by several from Charlottesville, who took with them a bloodhound spent most of Saturday afternoon and the greater part of yesterday in scouring the mountains around Scottsville in an effort to capture Ben Burrell, a young negro who Saturday morning killed his aged grandmother.

The thirty-eighth annual session of the Grand council of the Royal Arcanum of Virginia will convene in Murphy's hotel auditorium Richmond, tomorrow at noon, and will be in session two days. The grand council is composed of officers and delegates of fifty-seven councils of Virginia, numbering 116 and representing nearly five thousand members.

Four colored children, ranging in age from two years to twelve years, were burned to death yesterday morning shortly after 8 o'clock, when the home of their parents, about two miles above Glen Allen, on the River road, near Richmond, was destroyed by fire. They were the children of Moses Johnson, who, with his family, occupied a small frame dwelling. A fifth child, about seven years of age, who was also in the house, escaped by jumping from a window, but it was severely burned.

Cards have been sent out by members of the Virginia Bankers' Association announcing the decision of the executive committee to hold the twenty-fourth annual convention of the association at the Chamberlin Hotel, Old Point Comfort, June 21, 22 and 23.

Accidental discharge of a gun and a falling tree caused the death of the 13-year-old daughter and injury to a small son of George Myrick, almost simultaneously, near Reams, Dinwiddie county. Accompanied by his little boy, Myrick went to the woods near his home to saw wood. He sawed down a tree, which in falling kicked up the stump, breaking the child's leg. He picked up the child and carried him to the house. Just as he arrived he heard screams from the home of a neighbor. Leaving the suffering boy, he ran over to learn what the neighbor's troubles were and found that his own daughter had been accidentally shot and killed by Henry Robertson.

After a hunt lasting late into the night, Elmer Hopkins, aged 18, who Saturday night, it is alleged, shot and killed George and Cleveland Cole as they were returning from a circus performance, was arrested early yesterday near the North Carolina line and is in jail at Houston. It was intimated that he might be taken elsewhere for safekeeping. Hopkins was in a wagon with a Miss Bray and her brother. George Cole, it is said, left his buggy and climbed up into the wagon and began an argument with Hopkins. On being called a liar, Hopkins, it is alleged, drew a pistol and shot Cole through the heart. Cleveland Cole, seeing his brother shot down, attacked Hopkins, but was dropped on the body of his brother by a bullet in the neck.

Thomas J. Wade, of Richmond, was arrested yesterday in Baltimore on the charge of violating the Mann "White Slave" law. Lorena Serocci, 21 years old, and Ruth Williams, 23 years old, also of Richmond, are held as witnesses against Wade. The three were arrested at a furnished room house on West Fayette street.

Dr. William Henry Taylor, eighty-two years old, Coroner of Richmond, scientist pholosopher and astronomer, and a widely known professional man, died suddenly Saturday from a attack of grippe after an illness of less than two weeks.

A plot against the Virginia Military Institute, of Lexington, known as "the West Point of the South" was disclosed Saturday with the arrest of an alleged German spy while in the act of taking photographs of the buildings. Cadets are reported to have discovered his presence in a remote part of the campus. Officers who searched him found a plan of the buildings, on which were marked spots where it is supposed bombs were to be placed. Extra guards have been set.

E. L. Crisp, a twenty-three-year-old machinist, who, with his family, has been boarding in Richmond for several months, was arrested Saturday night on the charge of feloniously breaking the leg of his baby son, Rusel Learly Crisp, fifteen months old. The assault is alleged to have taken place in the boarding house Tuesday, and the baby was later removed to the Memorial Hospital.
